

CLUES

1. Built as a residence fit for a king,
Crowned by turrets three,
The _____ Beverly Castle stands,
A beloved landmark for all to see.

2. Before there was an Independence Day
Or Alexander Hamilton was star of a Broadway play,
Many _____ houses were built. This one, in mimicry,
Revived the style's windows, columns, gables and symmetry.

3. This stately Gothic church and its congregation,
Welcome everyone each Sunday.
Above the front door are words of invitation:
Enter, _____ and _____.

4. Look how she sits there, all pretty and prim,
A necklace of gold against ebony trim,
Decorative touches, just right for milady!
That's why they call her a _____.

5. At the corner, visible on foot or by car,
Is a concrete reminder of where you are:
_____ 95th Street.

6. Local history goes back many millennia,
give or take,
To when the hill was an isle in an ancient lake.
But the _____ standing in this yard,
so stoic,
Only goes back to the Mesozoic.

7. Rooted in community, the work of many hands and many hours,
This garden is vividly reflected in mosaic and paint:
Find a butterfly, a bee and a _____ amid the flowers!

8. Styled like they could be found near the Mediterranean Sea,
Facing each other like images in a _____,
Decorative details adding elegance and beauty,
The common origins of these two houses couldn't be clearer.

9. Two faiths stand side by side: one north, one south,
Wrapped in stone and guarded by archways,
They coexist and sing His praise:
_____ and Imago Dei

10. A symbol of the heavens and eternity,
The _____ dome (it's nothing like the veggie!)
Is touched by Midas, rising above walls blue like sky.
This is an ornate home you can't just pass by.

11. Emblazoned out front, we see substantial affirmation,
For children and passersby, a true education:
You Are _____, spelled out in white,
An important lesson in plain sight.

12. Two turrets guard the deep green door.
Enter if you thirst to know more.
Designed by Frost and built by Walker,
Don't dare go in if you're a loud talker!

13. Two houses side by side, over a century they've stood with pride.
A stunning English Tudor and a charming Queen Anne, _____ designed both – such a talented man!

14. History is preserved in this Tudor-revival abode,
Set on the hill, soon to be a _____ old.
Walkout terraces, roof lined with copper --
Hetherington's design stands tall and proper.
